PLAN BY G. O. P. HEADS TO HALT TARIFF REVISION

Fearful That Newly-Enacted Measure May Affect Their Re-election

WORLD CONDITIONS

Another Reason For Delay Is Lack Of Information For a Scientific Law.

Washington, Nov. 26—Postponement of permanent tariff legislation for another year is being seriously considered by Republican leaders of Congress. It has been assumed that the Senate would take up the House Tariff bill early in December, but it was learned today there is much opposition to this program. The Permanent Tariff bill passed by the House several months ago may be sidetracked for a full year There are several reasons why influential Republicans of the two bodies of Congress hesitate to tackle tariff revision at this time. These include:

Industrial conditions throughout the world are still unsettled; the inadvisability of going into a campaign next year with an untried tariff law on the books; extension of the farmers' emergency tariff which removes the pressure from agriculture for permanent revision; lack of information upon which to base a scientific tariff law.

It is understood that just before the adjournment of Congress last Wednesday a Republican member of the Finance Committee made formal motion that the Tariff bill now before the committee be laid aside until 1923.

While the idea in mind met with considerable support, it is understood that a formal declaration to that effect at this time was regarded as inadvisable and it was decided not to make any public declaration of policy just yet It is expected that the motion was withdrawn by its author, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, apparently heard of the disposition to postpone the permanent tariff measure, for he grilled Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Finance Committee, on his plans with reference to that bill.

Senator Harrison asked Senator Penrose whether it is the intention of the Finance Committee to hold hearings on the Revenue bill during the recess of Congress, which will run from now until December 5. The Pennsylvanian replied that a majority of the committee would remain in the city and could hear witnesses if any appeared and wanted to be heard.

Senator Harrison next inquired whether the Finance Committee chairman could give an approximate date when the Tariff bill would be reported by that committee to the Senate for passage Senator Penrose said he could not fix any date just now.

One feature of the Permanent Tariff act as passed by the House which is creating considerable pressure on the Senate Finance Committee in favor of keeping the bill "pigeonholed" for another year is the American valuation clause. Under that provision of the bill if it should be enacted intc law the duties on all imports from foreign countries would be fixed on their value in American dollars at the port of entry into the United States.

It is claimed that because of the low cost of manufacturing in many countries of Europe as measured by American dollars this would have the effect of putting tariff duties excessively high on imports. Such tariff walls, which would be higher in rates than many prohibitive duties in the days when high protective duties were the order, are feared by Republicans whose districts incline more to free-trade ideas than old-style protectionism.

High School Loses

Charlottesville High Defeats Locals By Score of 20 to 3.

Alexandria High School lost the semi-finals for the state championship when they were defeated on Lambeth field in Charlottesville by the Charlottesville High School team by the score of 20 to 3 Wednesday. Alexandria played a great game of foot ball but lost the game by reason of several fumbles all at critical stages of the game. The only score that Alexandria tallied was a drop kick for a field goal in the last period from the 40 yard line by Captain Fred Pettit. Alexandria made 17 first downs to 7 for the Charlottesville team. Several times in the course of the game Alexandria had the ball on the ten yard line but a fumble would throw them back out of scoring distance. Charlottesville will play Roanoke for the State Championship next week.

The game which was to have been played with St. John's College on Baggett's field yesterday was cancelled by them. The High School team will not play today but are trying to arrange a game for early next week.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 26. —As Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts one of the members of the American delegation to the arms conference emerged from the meeting of the Committee on Far East questions yesterday afternoon, he was held up by waiting newspaper men and questioned concerning the deliberations of the Committee. The Massachusetts Senator was giving some points about the meeting when he was warned by former Senator Root, another member of the American delegation.

"Senator," said Mr. Root, "you cannot tell the press anything about what transpired at this meeting, but you can give them some dope on what is going to take place in the future."

Both delegates laughed and so did the newspaper men, and Senator Lodge resumed his story.

President Harding has been urged by a delegation of gold star mothers to use the battleships contemplated to be "scrapped" by the United States under the Hughes plan of naval disarmament to transport mothers who lost their sons in the World War to France to visit the cemeteries where their loved ones lie buried. The members of the delegation explained to the President that there are hundreds of gold star mothers in America who are anxious to pay tribute to their sons who are buried in cemeteries in France but have not the means to pay passage for such a trip. They told him that in view of the fact that the United States has taken the lead in calling upon the principal nations of the world to declare a ten-year naval holiday and scrap a certain number of their ships, such vessels could be put to no better use than transporting to Europe the mothers of he American heroes who lost their lives in the World War and whose bodies are still buried in foreign soil. The President promised to give the suggestion his careful consideration.

Arthur James Balfour, the chief British delegate was quick to deny an inference from a newspaper report to the effect that former President Woodrow Wilson had said to him: "Another war will soon be upon us and it will be caused by the policy of France."

Mr. Balfour is an old friend of the former President. He met him here in 1917 when Balfour headed the British mission to thank the United States for coming into. He saw much of Mr. Wilson in Paris and it was on a basis of friendly interest in the ex-President's health that Balfour called at the Wilson residence. This was more than a week ago. The war statement attributed to Mr. Wilson said to have been made to "a friend" on Tuesday could not have been made to Mr. Balfour as the Balfour visit was made last week. The anxiety of Mr. Balfour to disassociate himself from the newspaper story was in part due to the strain under which Franco-British relations are now laboring.

There was no information in the British delegation today as to the coming of Premier Lloyd George, but it was not denied that he might meet Premier Briand before he took ship for the arms conference. According to the British spokesman, the British delegation is well pleased with the work of the conference and the progress it has made and the handling of matters in which they are vitally interested by Mr. Balfour as acting head of the British mission. Of course, the British delegation in Washington at present will welcome the appearance of Lloyd George in the deliberations of the conference, for they realize that their cause would have a noble champion through the visit of the English Prime Minister.

As the Conference on Limitation of Armaments and Pacific and Far Eastern questions concluded its second week of work yesterday, it was generally conceded that although no concrete results are yet apparent, that great strides had been made toward accomplishment of the objects of the conference.

Trained diplomats were saying today that not before in their experience have they seen an assembly so quickly get down to work and so expeditiously set out to arrive at conclusions. They pointed out that the American people, accustomed to action, might not fully realize the speed with which the conference is proceeding even though there is not at this time, immediate prospect of the signing of any kind of agreement.

President Harding has abandoned for the time being the folk course and is seeking recreation through horse back riding. Accompanied by Col. Starling, assistant chief of the Secret Service force at the White House and an orderly from Ft. Myer, the Chief Executive rides around the various cinder paths through the Mall and over to the Speedway. Those who have watched him say he seems entirelv at home in the saddle, although it has been some time since he sought this form of recreation.

Two Funerals Yesterday

The funeral of Mrs. Annie L. Struder, who died Tuesday night, took place yesterday afternoon from residence of her son Hubert Struder, 215 Gibbon street. Services were conducted by Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, and burial was in Bethel cemetery.

Funeral services for Miss Mary C. Martin, who died Tuesday night, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Martin, 502 South Patrick street, and conducted by Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester pastor of the M. E. Church South. Burial was in Bethel cemetery.

Missionary Evening

Epworth League of M. E. Church South To Hold Affair Tomorrow Night

The Epworth League of M. E. Church South will have a missionary evening on Sunday, November 27, in the Sunday School room of the church at 7 o'clock.

A treat is in store for all those who will attend as it gives the committee great pleasure to announce that Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Weigle returned missionaries from China, will be present to tell of some of their experiences in that foreign country.

It is an opportunity no one should miss, for China is daily before in and we want to learn all we can about this oppressed country.

Special music has been arranged. Note the change of hour. Be on time and you will say, "I am glad I came."

COLUMBIAN PLAYERS

To Attend Mass In Memory Of Wm. P. Desmond

The Columbian Players will tomorrow attend the seven o'clock mass at St. Mary's Church in memory of the late Wm. P. Desmond, the first Columbian Player to die since the organization of the society. Seats will be reserved in the left center aisle for the members, who are expected in full numbers.

At First Baptist

Tomorrow the evangelistic services at the First Baptist church will be fully launched. Preparatory services have been in progress during the entire week and the various organizations of the church have been lining up for work. The pastor, Dr. Jackson, will preach tomorrow morning on the "New Birth" and Rev. W. H. Brannock, of Baltimore, will preach his first sermon at the evening service. Mr. Brannock is a pastor-evangelist and has had experience in this kind of service. The teachers in the Sunday school will make the meeting the special topic of their lesson tomorrow morning. Members of all the churches are invited to come and enjoy this series of meetings, and those interested in the salvation of souls are specially welcome.

XMAS SEALS AND HEALTH BONDS ON SALE

Local Branch of Anti-Tuberculosis Society in Charge

EXCELLENT WORK

All Are Urged to Contribute Liberally To This Work—Funds Will Bring Comfort to Those Ill

Christmas Seals at one penny each and Health Bonds in denominations of $100, $50, $25, $10 and $5 are now being offered by the local branch of the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis society.

The Seals are familiar to all Christmas shoppers. There is seldom a piece of mail or a holiday package that does not carry this evidence of the interest of the people of every community in the great work of the organization so effectively engaged in the prevention of tuberculosis and in giving comfort to those distressed by the white plague. Three thousand, two hundred and eighty-five Virginians died last year from tuberculosis. This city was fortunate in not having as many deaths as other communities of the same population.

The Alexandria Anti-Tuberculosis society during past years has been a most active agency in the protection of the health of the community. Under its direction clinics have been held, trained and efficient nurses have been visiting the homes of the sick, doing bedside nursing, and giving comfort to the patients. The work of this society has been extended to include all sick, whether tubercular or not. In cases of great distress the patients have been sent to the state sanitorium, the transportation, medical attention, board and necessary comforts being given by the organization free of cost to the patients. This work is of the utmost importance to the individual and to the community, and in offering Christmas Seals to individuals and Health Bonds to larger business houses and organizations all are given an opportunity to contribute in a moderate way to continue and further extend the work of the local society.

The Christmas Seals are for sale at all drug stores, all banks, and by committees. Interest is alive in this work and all can purchase either stamps or bonds to assure a more extended work during the next year. A large sale will carry comfort to those distressed by illness and give a rich return to the investor.

UNIT ORGANIZED

Meeting of National Foundation Yesterday at Residence of Mrs. W. D. Ogden

Yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Ogdell, Fairfax apartment, a complete unit of the Woman's National Foundation was organized with Mrs. Odgen, chairman; Mrs. O. A. Ryder, secretary, and Mrs. John G. Graham, treasurer. Miss Helen Norris Cummings explained in a clear and interesting manner the program of the organization. Final arrangements for the next meeting have not been perfected, however, at this time Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, the national president, will address the three Alexandria units.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES

Various Fraternal Orders To Attend Trinity Church Tomorrow Night

Members of James W. Jackson Council No. 55 and Belle Haven Council No. 61, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, and Friendship Council No. 28, Daughters of Liberty and Mt. Vernon Council No. 1, and Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America, will hold their annual Thanksgiving services at Trinity M. E. Church at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin, pastor will preach a special sermon on matters of interest to the citizens of Alexandria.

Bible Thought for Today

THE TENTH COMMANDMENT: — Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbor's.—Exodus 20: 17.

FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Serial Movie To Be Shown For Children Every Monday Afternoon

"The Winners of the West," a movie serial now is being shown every Monday afternoon at the Idle Hour Theater for the amusement of the children of the city and incidentally for the benefit of the Friends' Playgrounds.

Manager Cohen has arranged to give a commission of four cents to the Friends' Playgrounds on each ticket sold through the efforts to the Playground Associaton.

In order, however, for the playgrounds to participate in this commission it is necessary that the child attending obtain at the playgrounds one of the pink tickets of admission and this bears sixteen numbers and is punched each time after admission is paid. At the end of the service the winner of the lucky number will be entitled to a voice in $10. The serial runs for a period of sixteen weeks, the first being shown last Monday.

This picture is to be shown every Monday afternoon from 2 till 6 p. m., and all children are urged to attend.

The Friends' Playgrounds is now in debt to the extent of about $200 and is anxious to wipe out the indebtedness without further delay.

The managers of the playgrounds announce the grounds will be kept open all winter.

Bus Line In Trouble

Receiver Appointed For Yellow Bus Line Inc

In the corporation court yesterday Judge Moncure appointed Robert Thomas receiver for the Yellow Bus Line Incorporated, and Mr. Thomas is authorized to receive and take full charge of all of the property of the company. The receiver was appointed on the application of the Belle Haven Garage to which company a bill of $177.42 is alleged to be due.

The Yellow Bus Line operates busses between Alexandria and Washington and it is understood had four busses on up to a short time ago. During the past few days it is stated the busses were withdrawn from service.

Old Folks Concert

At the Old Folks Concert next Tuesday, several old "tunes" will be sung in the style of a hundred years ago before the advent of church organs in many of our churches. The pitch pipe which will be used has been loaned for the occasion by Mr. Nevell Greenaway, and was used in the M. E. Church here in Alexandria when his grandfather was pastor. All should hear these old tunes.

Warrant For Payne

Fairfax Official Has Warrant Charging A. J. Payne With Shooting Lad

F. J. Wease, a constable of Mount Vernon district, Fairfax county, today apeared at police headquarters in this city with a warrant for U. S. Game Warden A. J. Payne, of Fairfax county. In the warrant he is charged with shooting J. W. Simms, fifteen years old, son of Ernest Simms, who lives near Pohick.

The warrant was issued by W. B. Tillinghast.

It is reported that Payne claims the shooting was accidental. At the time of he shooting Simms was accompanied by three other boys, Eddie Denty, Harold Baker and Willard Lynn.

The lad was going hunting it is stated. The bullet entered his shoulder. His injures are not regarded as serious.

The Cameron Club

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter To Speak December 2.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will address the Cameron Club Friday night December 2. Those who attended the meeting of the club last September, when she spoke of the value of woman's work in the club world, will recall her brilliant forceful address.

Always sought for in every state, there are not months in the year nor hours in the day when she could satisfy all of the demands upon her. It is therefore, with unusual pleasure the Cameron Club has claimed for at this time, for to this woman of great abilty has been given the added honor of being selected by President Harding to be one of the four women to attend the conference on the limitation of armaments now sitting in Washington. It is upon this subject she will speak.

The Federation of the District of Columbia of Women's Clubs is giving a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Winters and also in honor of the wives of the offical delegates to the conference on the limitation of armaments on Monday, November 28, at the Raleigh Hotel, Washington.

To this luncheon Miss Helen N. Cummings of this city, director of the clubs of Virginia, has accepted an invitation to be present.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Lynchburg.—L. P. Hammond, who is the local representative of the creditor's committee of the Jobber's Overall company, and who recently sold the plant here to the committee, is expected to return next week from a prolonged stay in New York, with developed plans for the organization of a corporation to put into operation one unit of the plant for the making of overalls, work shirts and work riding breeches. It is expected that the plant, to be operated under the name of the Old Dominion Garment company, will be put into operation early in January and that eventually at least 500 women will be given employment.

Norfolk—If, as charged by reformers and others who find fault with law enforcement, the prohibition laws of the state are not being enforced, the reason for alleged non-enforcement may be found in the fact that the city's jail capacity is too small. If it is true that there are moonshiners and bootleggers at large who ought to be in jail, as critics of law enforcement methods and officers assert, it will soon be necessary for the city to build a larger jail. The Norfolk city jail is now so filled up that if many more prisoners are sent to that institution for restraint against violation of the laws they may have to be quartered on the roof. The Norfolk city jail capacity normally is three hundred prisoners.

Winchester.—Residents of the southwest section of town were thrown into a turmoil of excitement early last evening, when three or four blasts were set off simultaneously in the suburbs, where rock is being quarried. The detonation was so terrific that dishes fell from shelves, some windowpanes were cracked, and bricks fell from a number of chimneys a distance of six blocks away. Many people ran into the streets terrified and panic-stricken, several being struck by showers of small stones.

Norfolk.—A rich treasure is buried under the bushes somewhere in Elmwood cemetery. Everybody in Norfolk may not know it, but Sam Forrest, Portuguese, has been tipped off by a "sperret," and is so convinced it's there he has begun to dig for it. And his activities have been halted long enough for him to answer in corporation court a charge of handling spirits. Sam had three negroes to help him unearth this treasure and they have the opportunity now to make the discovery and leave Forrest with the bag to hold. They are free while Sam is behind the bars.

Richmond.—That the proposed ordinance regulating and routing the jitney is not dead, but merely sleeping, was indicated by Councilman Edgar B. English last night when he stated that he would at the next meeting of the committee on ordinances introduce a substitute paper providing for suitable regulations for the jitney, including regular service, fixed route, interior lighting, thorough examination before permit is issued, and a fixed bond.

Norfolk.—The oyster situation in this section is unusual. Oysters were never so scarce, and never more indigerent. Any one who has large, fat oysters can demand his own price. Shucked oysters are selling from $1.40 to $1.60 a gallon.

Richmond.—As he sped yesterday on the way to Chicago, after receiving the plaudits of Pennsylvania's capital, the memory of Marshal Foch reverted to Richmond and Virginia, where Wednesday, the great French commander was given an ovation unprecedented in all the history of the Old Dominion. From Altoona, Pa., he sent to Governor Davis the following telegram:

"Thanksgiving Day greetings. Please accept thanks for splendid reception. Richmond furnished a fine example of true Southern hospitality."

Pioneers Visit Glass Plant

The Pioneers of Alexandria made their first industrial visitation last evening when twenty-five of them spent the evening at the plant of the Old Dominion Glass Works. Secretary Wallace, of the Y. M. C. A., was in charge and Milton Stonnell, of the Daniel Boone Troop, No. 2, assisted.

The boys assembled at the Parish Hall of St. Paul's Church at seven o'clock and hiked out to the plant where they were taken in charge by Floyd Beach, the night foreman. Mr. Beach carefully instructed the boys in glass making from the generating of the gas to melt the product to the making of the molds. They were delighted with the visit and were allowed to carry away with them souvenirs of the visit.

Other troops will be taken to the glass works later and many industrial visitations are planned by the leaders of the Pioneers for the coming winter. Secretary Wallace and Mr. Stonnell offered prizes for the best essays on the visit and the boys are to turn the essays in at the gymnasium class Monday evening.

ASSOCIATION OF NATIONS FROM ARMS CONCLAVE

President Hopes For World Organization to Result From Conferences

GERMANY TO JOIN

Proposed Plan Calls For All Nations to Sanction Agreements Reached by Delegates.

Washington, Nov. 26.—President Harding confidently expects the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments to evolve into an association of nations.

This was learned authoritatively at the White House yesterday and it set at rest the speculation current for months as to whether the Administration's aim for the Conference was limited to the agenda or was the first step toward effectuation of the President's declaration during his campaign for an association of nations

Mr. Harding does not foresee the exact structure the association will assume. He still looks favorably, for example, on the idea of an international court of world justice, but he is not ready now to say whether one will be a part of the association he expects to see develop. So with other features and details. He has not gone that far in his mind and probably will not for some time, being concentrated upon the basic question.

But on that basic question his judgment is clear and definite. From this Conference he looks to see other conferences come, gradually expanding in scope. Out of them in time, how soon the President is not prepared to predict, he expects to see a crystallization of the custom of nations gathering about the conference table for discussion of the problems that affect some or all of them. And that crystallization will be a permanent association of nations.

It is known that the President has discussed the subject with a number of the leaders of the delegations here from other nations, and that the thought that s in his mind has been given approval by them. It is an interesting and perhaps a very significant fact that several of the leaders of delegations here, notably Arthur J. Balfour and Rene Viviani, have been active and powerful in the work of the League of Nations.

In this new association that the President envisages Germany will have opportunity to be a member. It is the purpose of the Administration it was learned, to invite the sanction of Germany to the agreements reached in the Conference on the limitation of Armament along with those of other nations, including the smaller ones that are not members of the Conference That will introduce Germany into the society of the nations and will establish her eligibility if and when the association of nations develops.

No word has come about this Government's attitude toward Russia. The Presidents confident expectation that an association of nations is germinating is based on conviction that this conference is a success. He regards it as more successful than he had really hoped it to be—so successful that it is certain that the practice of nations gathering voluntarily and frequently about the conference table for discussion has been established as a normal international institution.

With the work of this Conference handled successfully the President believes and the peace and stability of the world forwarded in a considerable degree the nations will turn naturally to new conferences to handle matters that will still be hanging fire. These may be separations and debts between the nations that are held generally to be delaying the return to narmal economic relations. They may land armaments or they may be hang-over problems in the Far East.

As conference after conference is held dealing with subject after subject that ramifies throughout internatioanl affairs, it is to be expected that more and more nations will be gathered about the table, until ultimately there will be what will amount to a gathering of all the nations of the world, finding its main authority in the moral power of world public opinion.

All of this involves, of course the possibility that the League of Nations will be used as a basis, after amending its covenant to meet the views of the United States. It may be that the League will be shelved if the association that President Harding has in mind comes into being. Or it may be that ways will be found to reconcile the positions taken in the past by Mr. Harding with the working machinery of the League.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THEODORE HARRIS, Editor

Published every afternoon except Sunday by the Alexandria Gazette Corporation 317 King Street, Alexandria, Va.

Entered at the Postoffice at Alexandria, Virginia, as second class matter

SNARLING AND BITING

In our editorial of last Wednesday, we predicted the possible adjournment of the Arms Conference without definite action. We also hinted the possibility of bitter wrangling and stern dispute. The first marked note of discordance was sounded by Lord Curzon in his London speech of Thursday. While not sounded on the Conference floor, it still has the same effect, as it is the official British reply to French Briand's official Washington speech.

If you will look at the dedication page of your English Bible, you will find that King James still called himself the "King of France." If you will read your histories of England and France, you will also find that for several hundred years the royal families of both countries were so intermarried and intermingled that the kings of either country often claimed sovereignty over the other. In truth, Norman William, the tanner's grandson, fought the battle of Hastings in 1066, claiming he had better right to the English throne than Saxon Harold. And almost from Caesar's time the English and the French were at war one year or the next, down into the 19th century.

So it is not surprising that they should find matter to snarl about in the 20th century. But mark you the difference! This Conference at Washington is not a conference of kings; it is not a second Holy Alliance! It is a conference of Democracies; and the first that has thus far taken place in this world, at that! There is bound to be sharpest ragged edges of difference in opinion. The snarling has begun; the biting may follow. But back of it all is the unmistakable mandate of a war-torn and war-weary world. The peoples do not want to fight each other. That is the alpha and omega—the sum and substance of the whole thing!

If it had been left to the statesmen—to Foreign Minister this, and Prime Minister that, with Ambassadors and Under-Secretaries thrown in for boot—probably this Conference had not been held. In our own country were it not for the incessant and clamorous pother set up in the United States senate by Borah, Secretary Hughes would not have whispered to President Harding: "Let's call this conference and see what comes of it. 'Twill stop Borah's clatter, at any rate, and let them get down to business over there on the Hill!" And if the United States had not issued the call, no other nation would have done it—or, if they had, nobody would have paid any attention to it.

As we said yesterday, there are two roads to peace: one through the Conference, and one through such an inferno of war and destruction as the world has not yet seen. We further remarked that the world was at the cross-roads. If the Conference dissolves with no definite and decisive action taken, then the deadly fever has set in, and civilization will again tremble and totter to its very foundations.

But we look for a better issue. We believe as Pippa sang—"God's in his heaven and all's right with the world!"

C., and Major P. C. Bullard.

Sunday evening November 20th at the Liberty Theatre the 13th Engineer Band under the leadership of Warrant Officer Richard W. Treichel, played Bellini's "Norma," and Gruenwalds "Roguish Eyes." The Community Singing was led by Captain Raymond H. Moses. After brief remarks by Chaplain Perry O Wilcox and a soprano solo by Mrs C. C. Gans, which was greatly enjoyed the band played Farbach's "Musicians Strike" which was so well done that many in the audience were led to believe that an actual strike was occuring in the band. The program closed with movies ftaturing Mary Miles Minter in "The Little Clown."

Colonel Meriwether L. Walker, formerly commander at Camp Humphreys, is acting governor of the Canal Zone during the absence of Governor Morrow. Colonel Walker and his family are quartered at Balboa Heights.

The following letter has been received at the Camp Headquarters from Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, Commanding the District of Washington: "I take great pleasure in informing you that the two companies of Engineers, detailed for duty during the ceremonies in connection with the burial of the Unknown Soldier performed their various functions in a most creditable and satisfactory manner."

"The officers and men on duty at the capitol and at the amphitheater presented a most excellent appearance and their snap and military bearing was commented on most favorably by military officers."

"The handling of the delegations and societies at the capitol by Major C. P. Gross, C. E., and his officers was accomplished in a very quiet and dignified manner, and was entirely satisfactory."

"The guard duty in Arlington Cemetery, under command of Major D. O. Elliott, C. E., was well done and contributed largely to the success of the ceremony at the Amphitheatre."

Master Sergeant Alex. Sandorfy of headquarters Company, 13th Engineers and Master Sergeant James V. Guthrie of the Engineer School Detachment have been transferred in their present grade to the 17th Engineers.

Corporals Raymond J. Lowen, Zack Staer and Charls P. Day have been promoted to be sergeants and Privates First Class Charles Reilly Jr., Idil Bowen, and John A. Stewart have been made corporals. These men are all of the Engineer School Detachment.

Thanksgiving Service was held in the Camp Chapel by Chaplain Perry O. Wilcox, a feature of the program being the commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the First Thanksgiving held on December 11, 1621.

Major C. C. Gee, C. E., and family are spending a short leave in Philadelphia over Thanksgiving.

The Camp Adjutant, 1st Lt. Howard L. Peckham, C. E., is spending a Thanksgiving leave with his parents in Norwich, Connecticut. He will attend the Army-Navy Football Game at the polo grounds at New York City November 26th.

Sale Of Christmas Seals

Richmond, Nov. ...—The Virginia Tuberculosis Association announces that the preparations for the sale of Christmas Seals are progressing rapidly, and that the following counties have been organized: Amelia, Amherst, Arlington, Bath, Botetourt, Brunswick, Caroline, Charles City, Charlotte, Clarke, Dickenson, Dinwiddie, Elizabeth City, Essex, Fauquier, Franklin, Gloucester, Goochland, Grayson, Halifax, Henrico, Henry, Highland, James City, King and Queen, King William, Lancaster, Lunenburg, Madison, Mecklenburg, Montgomery, Nansemond, Norfolk, Orange, Patrick, Pittsylvania, Prince Edward, Prince George, Pulaski, Richmond, Rockbridge, Rockingham, Shenandoah, Smyth, Sussex, Tazewell, Warren, Washington, Westmoreland and Wythe. Following cities are also ready to handle the seal sale: Alexandria, Bristol, Charlottesville, Clifton Forge. Lynchburg, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Richmond, Roanoke, Salem and Suffolk.

The contracts and supplies have already been sent to the agent of the Association in each of the counties and cities named, and they are being organized in such a way as to effect the best possible sale. A goal of 5 cents per capita of the population of Virginia has been set, and the attainment of this goal would mean $115,318.05 to fight tuberculosis in the State.

Mr. Paul L. Benajmin, Editor of the Survey, and connected with the National Tuberculosis Association in New York in an advisory capacity, has just paid a visit of three days to the headquarters office of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association to consult with the staff concerning the Seal Sale. He is experienced in such campaigns and his advice will be very valuable in conducting the sale.

Richmond, November 23,— The Kluck Kluck Klan is mobilizing in force over Virginia to fight tuberculosis. In every county in the State country people are being asked to buy Chrstmas Seals with a chicken.

Mr. John R. Hutcheson, Director of the Extension Division of the V. P. I. has written a letter to all of the Home and Farm Demonstration Agents in Virginia, asking them to cooperate with the Virginia Tuberculosis Association by encouraging this feature of the Christmas Seal Sale. Funds to carry forward the educational and clinical work of the Association are raised by the sale of these little Christmas Seals.

The chickens collected from 45 counties adjacent to Richmond will be sold in this city at auction to the highest bidders among the hotels, restaurants, cafeterias and hospitals, while those received in the other 55 counties will be sold on the local markets. In Richmond the Producers' Co-operative Exchange, of which Mr. W. M. Cease is President, will sell the fowls.

In Orange the pure bred chickens which had just carried off prizes at the County Fair were given by their owners to the Kings Daughters who are conducting the Seal Sale in that County, and "chances' at 10c each were sold. Two of these aristocratic birds brought $20, with which to combat the White Plague. A pig was contributed by a generous farmer, which added $35 to the coffers of the Kings Daughters. Soon a Bantam family did its bit to add to this fund, which will doubtless increase rapidly as other chickens flock into the Sale Headquarters to buy Seals.

Given War Trucks

More than 27,000 motor vehicles have been distributed by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture among the various States for road-building purposes. Up to October 31 a total of 27,198 had been so distributed, including 1,800 retained by the Department of Agriculture for use on roads in the National Forests and in connection with the administration of the Federal Aid Act. These comprise virtually all the surplus motor vehicles turned over to the Department of Agriculture by the War Department to be distributed under the Wadsworth-Kahn Act among the States for road-building purposes. These vehicles, consisting mostly of motor trucks, are a part of the war materials originally intended for use in France.

FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Through a Neighbor's Advice This Woman Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kenosha, Wis.—"I suffered with a female trouble and at last was in bed for six weeks with what the doctors called inflammation of the bowels. Four of them said I could not live. A neighbor told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the start. When the doctor came I told him what I had taken and he said, 'Throw my medicine away and keep on with the Pinkham medicine.' I did and it cured me. If more women would take your medicine they would not suffer so. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to lots of people and they have been satisfied." — Mrs. MARY RHAPSTOCK, 701 Wisconsin St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

When a woman is beset with such symptoms as irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, displacement, backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or the "blues" she should treat the cause of such conditions by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for woman's ills.

REO

Ask Any Reo Owner

Best way to ascertain facts relative to preformance, dependability, riding quality, durability, and upkeep of any car is to inquire of owners just as you meet them.

You will be surprised how many will refuse eo recomend the make of car they are now driving.

You see, they have learned a lot, both about their own and other makes of cars, since a salesman told them this detail of outward appearance, or that of mechanical novelty.

When you ask Reo Owners, however you will be amazed at the precentage who will preface their replies by, "This is my third Reo." or "I have driven Reo cars for fifteen years," or similar assertions that say more than all the laudation that may follow.

Repeat orders are the rule, in sales of Reo cars.
That's because Reo owners, in their day to day experience, know the absolute dependability of Reos, and by comparisons have learned that Reo is almost unique in that regard.

When it comes to selecting a new car the Reo owner almost invariably says—"Why experiment?—I know what a Reo will do."

Reo alwasy a quality product— the new Reos just out are just that much better than their predecessors.

Ask Reo owners—ask ten in a row—and your selection will be a Reo.

For Reo Owners are our best salesmen.

QUANTICO NOTES

Quantico, Va., November 24.—The Marines at Quantico will play the crack football team of the naval operating base, Hampton Roads, Virginia, on Friday, November 25. The game will take place in the newly constructed stadium at Quantico, and will be witnessed by many distinguished personages from Washington. Foreign military and naval attaches, members of the present conference, and cabinet officials will be present to see the better team win. The entire command of Marines will turn out en masse, and the cheering will be a conspicuous feature of the contest. Several surprises will be sprung at the last moment, and the game will attract many people from nearby towns. The admission will be free to all who care to attend.

All the invited guests, officers and enlisted men will lunch together in the gymnasium building at half past twelve o'clock. Brigadier General Butler, commanding, will act as toastmaster, and there will probably be several short speeches from persons of note, who will be transported from Washington on the Eagle Boat attached to Quantico. Three hundred and thirty mess tables will be spread for the occasion, and "regular chow," such as is habitually eaten by the Marines, will be served by the organization messmen. Lieutenant Beatty, U. S. Marines, a distant kinsman of the famous British hero of that name, will be in charge of all arrangements. The menu follows: Roast beef, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, green peas, baked beans, pickles, celery, jam, coffee, bread and butter, pumpkin pie and cheese. All guests will then be whirled in machines to the scene of the battle, and the other rooters will make the best of their way on foot. Of course, the ladies, God bless 'em, will be present at this feast to add to the colour scheme and the table talk.

Quantico has a very strong team. It has not yet been defeated this season, having won its previous games with little effort. The rabors from Hampton Roads, however, will be very strong opponents, and will bear watching. They are heavy and fast and those who have seen them at practice here during the past few days are not at all sanguine that the Marines will win with ease. The game will be interesting not only from a technical viewpoint, for this contest will be followed with keen interest by the navy in general. Hampton Roads is a large and important base for the navy, and the sailors at that post generally develop good athletes for their numerous teams. In a way, this game might be viewed as a championship contest between the Marine corps and the navy, for the pick of the leatherneck football players are stationed at Quantico, with but few exceptions.

Lieutenant Beckett, known as "Johnnie Beckett" to football fans on the west coast, not only coaches the team, but plays as well in the backfield. The team that he has developed has a great deal of speed, and the play is varied. Beckett has witnessed nearly all the big games played in the East this season, and during the war captained one of the best elevens in the West, composed of Marines at Mare Island, California. He knews the game in all its variations, and it would be difficult to produce a better coach.

The final touches were put on the stadium yesterday, when about a thousand men were turned loose on the ground, and with their feet tamped the earth to a surprising smoothness. Grandstands have been constructed on either slope of the ravine that forms the site of the athletic field, and from each seat thus constructed the spectator obtains an excellent view of the arena. A running track will circumvent the field, which is located between the main camp and the rifle range, where so many of the American champion rifle and pistol shots are developed.

Col. Robert H. Dunlap, U. S. M. C., who commands the Third Brigade at this post, has had a very interesting career with the Marines since his entry into the service in April, 1899. He is a Washingtonian by birth, but was appointed from Maine. He has spent seven of his twenty-two years of service at sea or in foreign countries. Colonel Dunlap went overseas during the early days of the late war, accompanying General Pershing. He was thus in Europe shortly after our declaration of hostilities, and took a very active part in subsequent events. Having had considerable experience as an artillery officer of Marine corps units, he was appointed an artillery adviser to Admiral Simms. Later he served at the American expeditionary forces general headquarters at Chaumont, France. He was also on service in Italy with the allied war council. Finally, he was given command of the famous Seventeenth heavy artillery of the Second division, remaining with this unit through the last battles and during the occupation in Germany.

The colonel is a great sportsman, and is very well liked by all ranks in the corps. His wife, who is the daughter of a Marine officer, served with the Red Cross in France and England during the war, being one of the first American women to volunteer her services. She is an accomplished equestrienne, and a finished linguist.

The personnel of Quantico has been steadily diminished as a result of the demand for mail guards, and there are at present 233 officers and 2, 76 men. The navy maintains a hospital here, styled "Sick Quarters," with 28 surgeons, 12 women nurses, and an enlisted force of 94 hospital corpsmen. A number of these surgeons are attached to the four regiments of the post.

The raison d'etre of Quantico is but little known to the average layman, and perhaps a word of explanation might be of interest. The Marine corps maintains two expeditionary forces in the United States; one at Quantico, Va., and the other at San Diego, Calif. Each of these forces is a small army in itself, equipped with infantry, artillery, and specialist troops. There are also ground and sea planes and observation balloons. The two are practically identical in their general organization, except that at Quantico there is a larger number of men. Here is stationed the celebrated Fourth brigade that fought back the Hun at Belleau Woods, composed of the Fifth and Sixth regiments of infantry. The companies of the former Sixth Machine Gun Battalion are now, under the new system, integral parts of the infantry battalions, and are no longer a separate group, as they were during the war. All these troops wear the French fourrager of green and red, which is now a part of the regimental uniform. In addition to the infantry and machine gunners above mentioned, there is the Tenth regiment of artillery, equipped with heavy and light guns, tractor drawn. There is also the First regiment, consisting of specialist troops, miners, engineers, signalers, and search light operators. The Tenth and the First regiments make up the Third brigade. The air service comprises two squadrons, commanded by Major Geiger, who served in France during the war with the bombing planes of the Marines attached to the British forces.

This expeditionary force is available at all times for service in any part of the world. It can be got under way in several hours, and is complete in itself, requiring no additional men from ships or navy yards. It moves without confusion, and is trained with this object in view. The commanders of these units are:

Fourth brigade, Brig. Gen. S. D. Butler.

Fifth regiment, Colonel F. C. Bradman.

Sixth regiment, Major C. B. Matthews.

Third brigade, Colonel R. H. Dunlap.

First regiment, Lieut. Col. F. M. Wise.

Tenth regiment, Lieut. Col. R. M. Cutts.

In order to provide enough personnel in camp, should the force be withdrawn, there is a barracks detachment, consisting of special duty men attached to the post, a guard company that does all the regular guard over camp, and the post band and band school. There is also a quartermaster's department, with its different subdivisions, and a permanent detail for the rifle range.

In her latest and greatest photodramatic "hit"
"Straight From Paris"
At no period in her entire motion picture career has Clara Kimball Young ever been so bewitchingly beautiful, so wondrously gowned, so splendid in her dramatic powers as in this, Sada Cowan's latest story—"STRAIGHT FROM PARIS," a throbbing, ultra modern, ultra smart presentation that reaches the height of the cinema art.
If you paid the regular stage play prices to see Clara Kimball Young in 'STRAIGHT FROM PARIS' you wouldn't be paying enough for here is a photo-drama that in the might and beauty of the silent art surpasses many of the biggest stage plays of years.
A kaleidescope of dazzling scenes, an ensemble, of the finest talent, entrancingly staged with Clara Kimball Young at her best in "STRAIGHT FROM PARIS."

ATTRACTIONS NEXT WEEK IN WASHINGTON
"MECCA" AN EXTRAVAGANZA OF THE ORIENT AT POLI'S
RUDOLPH VALENTINO DELIGHTED WITH "THE SHEIK"
That his role of the Saharan chieftain in "The Sheik," is the best of his screen career, is the opinion of Rudolph Valentino who, with Agnes Ayres, is the featured player in the production, which enters its second consecutive week of showing at Moore's Rialto Theatre Sunday.
"I know of no more colorful role than that of the Sheik in this tremenous picture production," he said during the filming of the photoplay. "The scenes are as wonderful as they are stupendous and romantic."
Mecca
One of the season's most interesting theatrical events is scheduled for Poli's Theatre for next week, when the titanic stage spectacle, "Mecca," will be presented.
"Mecca" is a gorgeous extravaganza of the Orient, by Oscar Asche, the celebrated creator of "Chu Chin Chow." Its scenes take place in Cairo, Egypt, and Arabia, a thousand years ago.
Gayety Burlesque
A brand new entertainment in the way of Burlesque is The "Golden Crook," at The Gayety, next week. Thus do the producers Jacobs and Jermon, Inc., announce their presentation of their show of melody, fun and girls.

Thanksgiving Sermon

By Rev. Robert Browne, Pastor Methodist Protestant Church.

Text: Dent 8:2. "Thou shall remember all the way that the Lord thy God hath led thee."

Thou shall remember and thou shall forget. For equipment we need a good memory and a good forgettor. We must have our feet in the past, but reserve our faces for the future. We are indebted to what is in the past, and must worthily use it. We are to make out of it a great future for ourselves and for those who come after us.

Thanksgiving day is a good time to look off in both directions.

First, then the past we are to remember it. The old lawgiver sought to make the nations great, history sacramental. There were many things these people which had geen floundering about the welderness for 40 years, getting the pride and dross burned out of them could afford to forget; but there was much to remember. They had done many things to advertise their meanness and cowardice, but the meanest of them had been hedged about with divinity. They had been divinely led and had felt the lift of a great destiny. They were not to forget the Divine leadership, the power that had safeguarded them and turned them from perilous tragedy. They were by Moses reminded of the captain on the bridge the Mighty Pilot who keeps awake through every storm and never takes his hand from the helm.

Thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God hath led thee, much might well be forgotten, the old rebellions the old murmurings that did not better their conditions, but made it worse, their disloyalty to their spiritual leader and many unpleasant and unsavory things they had done. But we must remember the lesson of history that they had been divinely led, divinely protected, divinely trained for life in the new land, the Promised Land. They were facing a great future but their feet were mortised in the past and that new future would come to them out of the past.

Unfortunate is the man or the nation without the memories of Great Providences, that has never known the caress or discipline of heaven. That can discern no divine meanings in the past history of a nation or a man.

There are such and you pity them, nations over whose past no angel out of heaven has been known to fly, men who have resisted the moulding touch of the divine hand; depending upon their own ability as the journey through life, to that man or that nation there is but one place for them and that is amongst the decadent and perishing nations of the world; we are never to forget the past. We are the product of the past, the ground on which we stand is made soil, when you sink your shaft into it you cut into a layer of 40 or 50 centuries, so that all our sowing is upon prepared ground and the top dressing comes up from the older periods, God has been working and good faithful men have been building on the foundation which he has laid even Christ Himself. Providence is not the mintage of a yesterday, and God did not have to wait for us to appear on the scene before he made all things ready for our use. We had better not be to ready to juit the past for the life of today has sprung from the past, so we must honor the old foundations, as we ourselves are the product of the past. We must not get inflated minds because of our great physical and financial power, we must not be carried away, because we are doing things much juicker than our forbears, we boast of our modern clattering civilization, and world wide commerce, also being able to talk around the world in 40 minutes, cross the ocean in 36 hours. I wonder if we are not scurrying through life to vanity and doing very little; are we better and more reliable than our forefathers, we have to go back to great men, the greatest moulders of men, the greatest teachers of the world. There are not any of them above ground when we come to think of it.

Where is your modern Plato Shakespeare, Milton, Blaise Paschal, a Burke, a Gratton and Addison, when we think of these mighty forces and their transforming powers in the human life we must truly say our best has come from the past: Yes history, and dearest of all our treasures, our religion, we drink our richest drafts of inspiration out of vintages of the past who have made this world what it is for us to live in. It would be better for us to throw all our gold and wealth into the sea than to lose our past. The past of a divinely led nation, America, where God has been so visibly working.

We had better remember all the way the Lord hath led us; remember it because it has made us what we are, we have been from the begining a religious nation, and have never been more so than today. We have over 23,000,000 Christian people in this great country, we have feared God for centuries, some one has recently asked the juestion, if America would run off in a tangent like Germany. No danger, America will not forget the great Christian history behind her and that she is a Christian nation and means to be for all time to come.

Some people are not going to church, but some people have been always staying away from church, and if we ministers would spend less time bemoaning the fact, and have something better to give them when they come to church there would be more people in church than there are. People are tired of old platitudes and cumbersome extravagance in buildings and maintainance. I think in a great many cases they have good reason to be, God may be about to smash up a whole lot of our ecclesiastical china, that we may get back to the primitive simple way of worshipping God. Remember all the way that the Lord hath led us. Forgetting the things that are behind and reaching forth to those things that are before.

We are to remember the past and we are to forget it, the soil we now stand upon is an inheretance from the past, but we must add a new layer to it on which others are to sow on. Time goes not back to fetch its age of gold, but forward, St. Paul did not belittle Moses, the courage of Moses was an inspiration to Paul, so we can use the past as a vantage ground from which we seize a great future. Our best use of the past is to get a great future out of it. We must not over work the past; the past is for us but the sole terms on which it can become ours is that it will serve the present and the future. One way to forget the past is to go ahead and do better things in the future, some of us are not content to leave our old mistakes and blunders behind us, we worry over them, we erect monuments to our failures in the past, the old yesterday and their troubles we carry along. If we have done foolish things in the past we need not do them a second time and then let the matter rest, our old sorrows we had better leave with the dead yesterday. The tomorrow of hope is already kindling in the East, and since we are moving away from those sorrow haunted regions toward the unended life we can afford to disengage ourselves from the clutch of griefs that are soon to be healed forever. Life can keep in freshness and beauty only by new undertakings. We shall have nothing to be thankful for next Thanksgiving Day. If we do not do some new helpful and hitherto unattempted work this year learn new things, do new things every week you live. The Apostle Paul kept himself young in soul, pressing toward the mark of new opportunities. Don't forget that the human mind is inexhaustible, we shall be equal to all occasions as in the past. Don't be disturbed if you hear of a little hersey getting abroad, God made this universe fire proof. The old rock of ages stands firm and sure.

We have been undertaking great things in national and international affairs, things have been changing wonderful. The old selfish precedent is dying out as time goes on and we have been finding that after all we are our brothers keeper, and that strength owes its debt of obligation to the weak. America is taking a great hand in that business and all signs point to a great work being accomplished and much good done.

Along that line of bearing one and others burdens and so fulfilling the law of Christ. We rejoice as a great and mighty nation that God has commissioned our people to enter this larger service of helping the weaker nations and peoples of a war scared world and may heaven speed the day and may we not shrink ourselves when the pinch of responsibility is upon us. Ever remembering that the Lord thy God hath led thee all the way and then He will say unto you: Well done, good and faithful, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

How To Keep Your Blood Pure and Wholesome

It Is the Person With Rich, Red, Normal Blood—The Person of Health and Energy—That Meets With Business and Social Success.

A Lowered Vitality Is Usually Due to Waste Products in the Blood.

When your blood is impoverished and loaded with waste products, you don't get the full strength out of your food, and as a consequence, you become weak, nervous, and easily upset.

Waste products get into the blood mainly through the intestines, but there are other sources—for instance, the glands. Some glands secrete digestive juices, while others excrete waste products. If they fail to properly function, waste products accumulate.

As a result, nature strives to cast off the poisons. It may be through the skin in the form of some skin disorder, but it is not infrequent for it to settle in the muscles and joints and cause rheumatism.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality.

The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition.

Get S. S. S. at your druggist. Use it strictly according to directions and write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., D-718 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. for special medical advice (without charge). He is helping people every day to regain their health and strength. Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores.

The key to success is work—
There is no substitute for it!

In order to do your best work, you must be healthy. You must sleep soundly at night, your nerves must be strong, steady and under perfect control.

If you are accustomed to drinking tea or coffee with your meals or between meals, you may be loading yourself with a very great handicap. Your nervous system may be stimulated beyond what is natural for you.

For tea and coffee contain thein and caffeine. These are drugs, as any doctor can tell you. They are known to irritate the nervous system by their action and to cause restlessness and insomnia, which prevent the proper recuperation of the vital forces.

If you want to be at your best, capable of doing the very best work that lies in you, why not stop drinking tea and coffee? Drink Postum, the rich, satisfying beverage made from scientifically roasted cereals.

Postum contains absolutely no drugs of any kind, but in flavor tastes much like rich coffee. It helps nerve and brain structure by letting you get sound restful sleep.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Sold everywhere.

Ce-re-a-lia Sweets

It Pays
To Please Your Cows

The best feed in the world won't produce milk if your cows turn their nose away from it. Cows munch the last morsel of Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, not because of its "high protein" or its "guaranteed analysis", but because it tastes good. We could make up a ration with exactly the same percentages of protein, carbohydrates and fat without such a large pleasing variety of ingredients, without including appetizing molasses, but your cows would digest less, tire of its tameness, give less milk. Ce-re-a-lia won't lump or cake. Easy to handle. If you're feeding home-grown ground corn this year, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets along with it. Use the usual roughage.

Four Weeks' Trial At Our Risk

Feed one cow 4 weeks on Ce-re-a-lia Sweets and make us prove these two points: First, that you will get more milk or better milk. Second, that your actual profit will be greater; if Ce-re-a-lia costs more than you're paying now, the improvement in flow or test must more than make it up. Money back if either test fails. Ask us for details.

T. F. BURROUGHS AND SONS

A telephone system is constantly expanding. New capital is continuously required.

Our Requirements For New Capital

FEW people realize the tremendous demands for new capital by the public utilities of the country in their efforts to serve the public adequately.

It has been estimated that extensions and improvements of public utilities which have been postponed since the beginning of the war now call for the expenditure of one and a quarter billions of dollars.

The Bell Telephone System alone has increased its investment during the past eight years from $750,000,000 to nearly $1,400,000,000—almost double.

The new capital that will be required within the next few years by utilities and other enterprises will run into staggering figures and only those offering a safe investment and a good rate of return can expect to get a fair share of the capital available.

Realizing our obligations to give our patrons good and adequate service, we must earn enough to attract new capital.

THURSDAY, NOV. 25, 1813.

AN AWFUL AND REMARKABLE CIRCUMSTANCE.

On Tuesday last, a Coroner's Inquest was taken on the body of Daniel Poole, of Pill. It appeared that the deceased was found dead, on Sunday morning last, in a field on the north side of the parish of Uraxall: and that when he died, he was in the act of killing a sheep which he had just stolen. In his right hand was a bloody knife, and his clothes and body were everywhere soiled with gore and dirt. Near him lay his gun discharged; and at short distance a wounded sheep, which had evidently been shot at and had a slight wound under the ear. Poole was perfectly lifeless, very black in the face and altogether a horrible spectacle. In a ditch was concealed a sack, which being searched, was found to contain the carcass of another sheep, paunched, skinned, cleaned and cut up; whilst a patch of newly turned earth marked the spot where the skin and offals were buried. Verdict—"Died by the Visitation of God, in the act of Felony!"

A DUEL.

Was fought on the 14th ult. in the Illinois territory, half a mile from Vincennes, Indiana territory, between Mr. Irwin Wallace, from the neighborhood of Pittsburg and Lieut. Thomas R. Richardson, of the U. S. Army. At the second fire, Richardson received his antagonist's ball in the right side and fell dead without a groan.

A HINT TO THE FAIR.

I courted Polly when just twenty-three. Now Polly in her fortieth year courts me, in vain!

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving Day is only a legal holiday through the proclamations issued by the governors of the various states.

The observance of a day of thanksgiving was instituted by the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth, in 1621, in gratitude for the first harvest in America.

In many of the colonies the governors set aside a day for autumnal thanksgiving. The festival has been observed annually in New York state since 1817.

The turkey, plentiful in the colonies, and easily obtained by the hunters, became the central figure in the Thanksgiving dinner from its very inception.

It was not until 1863, when President Lincoln designated the last Thursday in November, that a definite day each year began to be observed as Thanksgiving Day.

President Washington issued the first presidential Thanksgiving Day proclamation in 1780, following the adoption of the constitution.

President Madison, in 1815, directed that a special day of thanksgiving be observed in acknowledgment of the return of peace after the war with England known as the war of 1812.

During each year of the Revolutionary War congress recommended thanksgiving services and in 1784, a special day of observance was appointed in gratitude for the return of peace.

Recently a movement has been inaugurated to merge Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day, November 11, marking the close of hostilities in the World War, as a day of national thanksgiving.

RICHMOND THEATRE

One of the big motion pictures of the season is at the Richmond Theatre today, "A Man's Home," a Selznick Special directed by Ralph Ince, is presented. It is a vital heart-throbbing cross section of life as it is lived in the home of an average well to do man of today.

A notable array of players make up the cast of "A Man's Home." Harry T. Morey, hero of a score of successful photoplays is cast as the neglectful, but fighting husband; Kathryn Williams portrays the flighty wife who almost disrupts the happiness of several lives; Grace Valentine plays the adventuress and and Roland Bottomley performs as her partner in the conspiracy. Matt Moore and Faire Binney, two of the screens most popular leading players, are entrusted with the juvenile roles.

"A Man's Home" was written by Anna Steese Richardson and Edmund Breese, and Director Ralph Ince believes it to be the finest thing he has ever done.

Thrift Habit

One of the banks of Minneapolis recently conducted a thrift campaign to encourage the people of that city in the practice of systematic saving of money and wise investment. Newspapers of the city devoted much space to the subject, and considerable publicity was given to a message from the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, vice president of the United States. The vice president said:

"The conveniences of modern civilization have been secured solely by means of the accumulation of capital. Modern conditions have been established by saving of money. It is this which has built great cities, laid out spacious avenues, established sewer systems, constructed railroads, provided gas and electricity for daily use, and developed the whole economic system of modern society. Money is not to be saved for its own sake, but by reason of the additional power for service that it gives to its possessor. The combined savings of the people are the only support of modern civilization.'

"There is another reason for saving money and that is because in most cases it is likewise the foundation of character. It is the result of self-control, in the first instance, and of the use of sound judgment.' A spendthrift is of no value to himself or to the community in which he lives. The dissipation of capital is the dissipation of the power for public service. The accumulation of capital is the assurance of good citizenship."

Saving money is not so hard after a person once acquires the habit. The United States government makes it easy for every man, woman, and child to practice thrift. The start can be made with a dime invested in a Postal savings stamp or $1 will open an interest-bearing Postal savings account or pay for a treasury savings stamp. Twenty of these $1 treasury savings stamps, with a few nickels added, or a Postal savings deposit, can be converted into a treasury savings certificate, paying $25 at maturity. These savings certificates are also sold in maturity denominations of $100 and $1,000. They yield interest at 4 per cent., compounded quarterly, when held until maturity, and can always be converted into cash on short notice at more than their original cost.

Chauncey M. Depew, erstwhile United States senator from New York, put $100 in a Peekskill, N. Y., savings bank in 1860. It was his st $100. Maybe Senator Depew found, as many do, that the first $100 proved to be the hardest. Anyway, in spite of strenuous temptation, he refused to draw upon that $100, and, as a result of later prosperity, finally forgot about it. Not long ago Senator Depew entered the Peekskill bank to greet some old friends and they reminded him of his "nest egg." On computing the interest it was found that the original deposit of $100 had grown to $800, and owing to the long period in which it had lain undisturbed had achieved the distinction of being known as the bank's star account.

Saving of Money Nation's Strength, Says Mellon

In a letter to Stuart W. Wells, president of a Minneapolis, Minn., bank, who had requested an expression on the subject of thrift and systematic saving of money, the Hon. Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, said:

"It has always been a firm conviction with me that ability to save money is one of the essential elements in individual success. The economic habits of the people are a fair index to the economic strength of the nation. I know, therefore, of no more influential effect, that could be made upon American society than that the practice of saving money should become universal.

"In continuing the treasury savings movement after the close of the recent war it was the object of the treasury department that the economic habits developed in America during the war might be made permanent and that the saving and safe investment of money might become a universal practice. Let me assure you that any effort on the part of the banking institutions to improve the financial condition of the people through the saving of money has the hearty indorsement of the treasury department."

Finding a Job For Every Dollar

The greatest asset of a nation is the morale of its people, and the greatest influence in keeping up moral is financial independence. Until one has removed his financial shackles and has a little money to the good he can not rise to the full advantages of a citizen. He lacks confidence to accept responsibility. He lacks courage to plan for the future. He lacks means to take advantage of opportunity. A little money saved from honest work and invested successfully is one of the essentials of complete citizenship.

Getting ahead is not a matter of chance or of good luck with most of us, but a matter of industry and good management. Standards of living will differ with different people. Comforts and pleasures of life and the cultivation of talents will vary with different individuals. The amount that can be saved for the future will depend principally upon the opportunity and the inclination to earn, but one fact is universal, that no man will get ahead unless he spends less than he earns, and uses the margin intelligntly. It has been rightly said that to make $10 and to spend $9 means success; to make $10 and spend $11 means ruin. Which way are you headed?

The first step toward financial success is a job. The next step is to save something from the job, and to find a job for what you save. There is a job for every dollar. How successful a dollar may be at its job depends upon how good a job is selected for it.

It is with the object of developing and maintaining the practice of universal saving of money and of putting the people's dollars to work at a successful job that the United States Government through the Post Office Department is offering the people Postal Savings for the deposit of their money and United States Treasury Securities for investment.

The United States' luxury tax amounts to $50,000,000 a year and is collected on articles purchased mainly for or by women.

Civil Service Examination Non-educational

Service, custodian; place of employment, Alexandria, Va.; title of examination, stationary fireman; date December 20, 1921; position to be filled, fireman laborer; salary, $660 per annum.

Applicants must have had at lenst six months' experience as fireman of a steam heating plant, but no credit will be given for experience acquired in the course of firing private ordinary household heating system.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination for the position named above. As a result of this examination certification will be made to fill a vacancy in the position specified, and vacancies in positions requiring similar qualifications in the different branches of the federal classified service at the place, or in the vicinity of the place, named above, unless it should be found to be in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement, transfer, or promotion.

Citizenship and sex—All citizens of the United States who meet the requirements, both men and women, may enter this examination; appointing officers, however, have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. For present vacancies male eligibles are desired.

Subjects and weights—No educational test will be given and applicants will not be assembled for a mental examination. The examination will consist of the subjects mentioned below, which will have the relative weights indicated:

Subjects	Weights
1. Physical ability	40
2. Training and experience	60
Total	100

All statements relating to training and experience are accepted subject to verification. Applicants for positions which usually require the serving of an apprenticeship must show that they have served the apprenticeship or its equivalent. No applicant will be eligible for appointment who fails to attain a rating of at least 70 per cent. in the subject of training and experience and a rating of at least 70 per cent. in the subject of physical ability.

Physical requirements—The following physical defects will debar applicants from any examination: Bright's disease; malignant tumor (cancer, etc.); diabetes, epilepsy, any abnormal hardening of the arteries (arterlosclerosis); transmissible disease, including syphilis, gonorrhea, and chancroid, also tuberculosis (active or arrested for a period of less than one year); insanity or mental illness sufficiently definite to affect the usefulness of applicant; seriously defective vision of both eyes, incorrectible by glasses; progressive myopia; progressive or disabling paralysis; uncompensated valvular disease of the heart; loss of both arms, both legs, or arm and leg; hands, arms, feet, legs, or body so injured, crippled, or deformed as to seriously affect usefulness; chronic alcoholism or drug addiction. In addition, persons who have lost an arm or a leg, or who are ruptured, are ineligible for appointment to positions in the custodian service. Other physical defects will render applicants ineligible for any particular service or position when, in the judgment of the commission, such defects would disqualify them for the duties required. Physical requirements may be waived in the case of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines under certain conditions.

Age and retirement—The age limits for the different branches of the service are as follows: Quartermaster corps, men, 20 to 55 years; women, 18 to 50 years; ordnance department at large, 18 to 55 years; engineer department at large, 18 years or over; custodian service, 20 to 50 years; lighthouse service, minimum 18 years, except for those positions which require a license from the steamboat-inspection service, for which the minimum is 19 years; maximum 45 years for officers of tenders, none for other positions in the lighthouse service; other branches, 20 years or over. The age limits are waived for all branches of the service in the case of persons allowed preference because of military or naval service. Classified employees who have reached the retirement age and have served fifteen years are entitled to retirement with an annuity. The retirement age for railway mail clerks is 62 years, for mechanics and post-office clerks and carriers 65 years, and for others 70 years. A deduction of two and one-half per cent. is made from the monthly salary to provide for this annuity, which will be returned to persons leaving the service before retirement with 4 per cent. interest compounded annually.

Applications—For application and examination blank (Form 1800), address the secretary of the board of civil service examiners at the post-office or customhouse in the city named at the head of this announcement, or the district secretary at the address below. An applicant who is unable to write may have his application filled in by another and sign it by mark, which must be properly witnessed; but only those eligibles will be certified for appointment in the custodian service whose applications are in their own handwriting.

No application will be accepted unless properly executed and filed with the district secretary prior to the hour of closing business on December 20, 1921.

Preference—Applicants entitled to preference should attach to their applications their original discharge, or a photostat or certified copy thereof, or their official record of service, which will be returned after inspection.

A BLOOD BUILDER
FOR TIRED WOMEN
Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood—Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form

When a woman overworks, either mentally or physically, there is a strain on the vitality. Getting up in the morning she feels low in spirits. Her eyes are dull, her complexion is sallow or patsty.

A few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken in regular doses is what will build up her blood.

The reason for this is known. It is simply that Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes blood rich and red. It has the things in it that make new blood and drive out the poisons in the system. New blood makes new vigor and gradually the depressed feelings vanish, the natural healthy glow comes back to the skin and there is pleasure in living.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is sold at drug stores in liquid or tablet form. The full name, "Gude's Pepto Mangan," is on each package. Advertisement.

The motorist who has driven a Buick longest is the one who appreciates Buick most

W. C. Jessup, President and General Manager of the E. H. Hotchkiss Company, Norwalk, Conn., is a staunch admirer of Buick. He tells why:

"My Model 29 Buick, purchased in 1911, has now run 150,000 miles.

"Winter and summer, it has traveled over every kind and condition of road. It has gone through miles of mud at a stretch. It has traveled for hours over Florida sands. It has plowed through snow drifts. Yet in all these years I have never had to get out of my car except for tire trouble. It always keeps going.

"The same clutch, cylinders, transmission, differential, etc., that were in the car when it was delivered are still in perfect working order."

Mr. Jessup's account of his Buick's performance is characteristic of the service given by Buicks everywhere, and accounts for the overwhelming sentiment—You can always depend on Buick.

—Jr. O. U. A. M.

James W. Jackson Council, No. 55, Jr. O. U. A. M., meet every Monday night in its hall, 117 North Pitt St. It held a largely attended meeting. The degrees of he order were conferred on five candidates and a number of applications for membership were received and referrd to committees on investigation. On Sunday, November 27 this council will go to Trinity Church to hold its annual Thanksgiving service. The Rev. D. H. Martin will preach the sermon at 7:30 o'clock. Every member is urged to be at the hall at 7 o'clock to go to the church in a body. A large membership is expected, so be sure to be on hand if you want to hear a good sermon.

Sarepta Lodge

Meets every Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., at Odd Fellows' Hall, North Columbus street. Joseph Morrow noble grand, and E. C. Todd, vice grand.

Past Grand William D. Zimmerman honored us with his presence at the last meeting. Brother Zimmerman is one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the order in Alexandria, having been a member of Sarepta Lodge for over fifty years, and has devoted his whole life to the great teachings of this grand old order in the relief of the distress and the betterment and elevation of his fellow man and in assistng fallen humanity. He has always extended a helping hand to those who are in need. At our last meeting we conferred the third degree upon a class of candidates after which Brother Rev. D. H. Martin gave us a good talk and as a lodge as well as individual we should be thankful for the many blessings in the past year and should be thankful for the betterment of the world which our order is accomplishing. There will be no degree work next Wednesday. Nomination of officers will later take place. All Odd Fellows are cordially invited to attend.

Potomac Lodge No. 38 of Odd Fellows' conferred the initiatory degree on a class of three candidates last night. Announcement was also made that Past Grand Master Southall, of Danville, Va., had died this week and was buried yesterday.

Knights of Columbus

The dance Thanksgiving evening by the Fourth Degree Assembly of the Knights of Columbus was largely attended, and a most enjoyable time was had by all those present.

Considerable interest is being shown by the local K. of C. in the pool contest that is held every evening among the pool sharks of the club. The club is well equipped with a pool table, and the members seem to enjoy themselves with this and the various other attractions to be found at the club.

The second degree of the order was conferred upon a large class of candidates last Wednesday evening at St. Mary's Hall. The impressiveness of the K. of C. degrees always attracts a considerable number of members and the different exemplifications cannot but help have an increased influence every time they are witnessed.

The Home Fund Committee are still working hard on their goal, and hold their regular Friday evening meetings. There can be no doubt that the Home Fund Committee has workd as hard, if not harder than any committee ever appointed by the council. The committee has no self-interest in the matter, but are working for the benefit of the members, whose support it is safe to presume they will have throughout the time necessary to raise the amount that will put the new club rooms on a "paid up" basis.

Knights of Pythias

Oriental Lodge No. 6, Knights of Pythias at its convention Tuesday, November 22, conferred the Rank of Page upon a large class, next Tuesday the lodge will confer the Rank of Esquire upon the same class.

Order Fraternal Americans

The next regular meeting of Alexandria Council, Order Fraternal Americans, will be held on Friday evening, December 2nd, at which time the degrees of the order will be conferred and important business of interest to the order will be considered. The Council is makng arrangement for being represented at the District Council meeting which will be held at Vienna on December 13th.

(This column will be published each week on Saturday, and is open to all Fraternal Orders of the city. Contributions should be sent to the Fraternal Editor so as to reach this office not later than nine o'clock Friday morning—Editor.)

Jewish Conference at Atlanta

Mr. Leopold Ruben, 601 King St., Alexandria, has been invited to attend a conference of prominent Southern Jews, to be held in Atlanta, December 2, to discuss vlans for the third Jewish Relief Camvaign, with the following men of national preeminence: Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, president of the Sears-Roebuck comvany; Louis Marshall, a leading New York attorney, who is a law partner of Samuel Untermeyer; Felix Warburg, of the firm of Kuehn-Loeb and comvany, New York; and David A. Brown, of Detroit, chairman of the national committee, who will direct the coming campaign.

The Atlanta conference is a follow-up of the national convention of the American Jewish Relief Committee, which was held in Chicago, September 24 and 25. At that convention, where 35 states were represented, the question of the continuation of this service was answered by a unanimous decision to maintain the work by a campaign of national scope. It was decided at that time to raise $14,000,000 for the rehabilitation and repatriation of the thousands of Jewish refugees and sufferers of eastern Europe.

The states included in the conference are: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and Georgia. The men who have been active in their state campaigns heretofore have been invited to attend, and will confer regarding the activities in these states, and the time of the campaign launching.

At this meeting there will be no solicitation of funds, but only an outlining of plans for the Southeastern States and the determination of the quotas.

There are more than 26,000,000 widows in India. The ratio is said to be one in every six native women in the land.

Supper Monday By Salvation Army

A real old time Virginia supper will be served Monday evening from 5:30 till 9 o'clock at the Salvation Army Hall, 321 King street. Proceeds of the supper will be for the Young People's work. The officials of the Salvation Army invite all of the citizens to come and enjoy the supper. The price is only fifty cents

$313,971,211 In Construction Projects South During Past Fourteen Weeks

With a total of approximately $314,000,000, the record of contracts awarded and to be awarded on construction projects of all kinds throughout the South, as compiled from the construction of fall building activities on a level practically equal to the high mark established during the mid summer months and shows but little trace so far of the usual seasonal slump. These figures are strikingly borne out by a comparison of building activities in 60 representative Southern cities as indicated by the recent monthly reports of the various building inspectors.

True to predictions made the early part of this year in these columns, the tide of construciton activity has maintained a comparatively even level throughout the year, and the amount of money involved in contracts actually awarded has steadily increased in the sum total of contracts awarded and to be awarded as recorded each week. Indications are now that the big building program will be continued at present rate, with only such deterrents as bad weather condiitons etc., until the holiday and inventory season—when activities in practically all lines normally show a slackening. There seems to be justification for the belief that with the new year they will be vigorously pushed to a big volume at the opening of spring, when, in the opinion of many building supply men, students of the housing situation, and other close observers of present conditions there will be inaugurated a building program exceeding in magnitude and widespread scope that of almost any other period in the history of the country. As a result of the confidence that is now manifesting itself in the future of construction, sales of both hardwood and softwoods are being maintained at a high level; shipments are going forward at new high figures, and production is being encouraged to maintain a sufficient supply of materials for the spring trade. Lumber prices have stiffened recently and some plumbing, heating and electrical supplies have also gone to higher levels, although every effort is being put forth to prevent price increases fearful lest a damper be placed on building operations.

A new high record for contracts awarded was established for the week ended October 7 when the valuation of such projects totaled $10,672 996, the total contracts awarded and contracts to be awarded for that period being slightly less than $26,000,000. The previous high record was on September 2, contracts awarded for that week amounting to $8,341,330. The high record of spring months was for the week ended April 22 when out of a total of approximately $40,009,000 representing projects for which contracts were actually awarded and initial announcements made, the former classification involved $8,286,454.

A comparison of the figures for this week will show the big proportionate increase made in contracts awarded considering the total expenditure involved for each week.

During September there was a decided reduction in the amount of money involved in new projects, but the figures representing newly planned projects sharply increased during October and indications are that this level will be maintained during November. This means that with the opening of next year plans will have been completed for many projects which can be gotten under way without delay so that the construction activity can go forward without any appreciable slackening. The relaxation of credit restrictions will enormously boost building activity, especially that of houses, hotels and apartments, which to a large extent featured building activity during 1921 as contrasted with 1920 when house building was but a small part of the program.

Because of the preponderance of small projects costing several thousand dollars and upwards contractors and builders who have devoted their time heretofore to big projects are prone to say that this year's building activities have not been large, but building permit statistics show that taking the South as a whole the building valuation this year far exceeds that of 1920 despite the big decrease in building cots. As a Baltimore paint manufacturer stated the case recently, he was doing to his surprise a greater volume of business in dollars and cents than in 1920 but that he was selling to three times as many people as in 1920.

During the past fourteen weeks from July 29 to October 28 inclusive the total involved in contracts awarded and to be awarded exceeds $313,900 000, of which $96,271,532 represents contracts actually awarded, and $217,639,670 is involved in completion of projects initial announcements of which were reported from week to week and many of which have now been gotten underway. The contracts awarded weekly during the above period averaged more than $6,870,000, compared with the average since February 19 to October 28 amounting to slightly more than $6,430 000.

Miscellaneous enterprises hold first place in the classification of projects, involving $70,888,100 in contracts to be awarded and $23,129,742 in contracts awarded, or a total of approximately $94,000,000.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

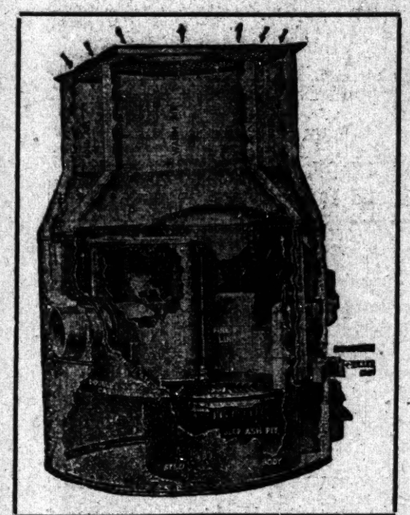
"There's a Blizzard on the Way"

SOME morning this winter your family will face that reality. Will you be ready for it? Don't forget the dangers and discomforts of last winter. Don't put off the selection of a new heating plant for your home too long. Don't go through another winter without the cozy comfort of "QUAKER" Heat.



Now is the best time to prepare your house for the damp, chill winds and the cold days that are sure to come. If you install a QUAKER FURNACE now, you'll not mind the time when "there's a blizzard on the way" because

"Quaker" Heat is Quicker Heat

QUAKER

"The Pipeless Furnace That's Built of Steel"

The Quaker Furnace is built of steel, which radiates heat three times as fast as cast iron. Yet the Quaker holds the heat longer because the firepot is lined with FIRE BRICK like the crucible of a blast furnace.

Quaker Heat is cleaner heat, too. The joints are riveted like a boiler. No cement to crack and crumble. Soot, ashes, dust and dirt positively cannot leak through. The hotter the furnace gets the tighter the joints become.

OTHER IMPORTANT FEATURES

The Quaker has an extra large water pan (with handy outside filler) which keeps the air moist and healthful. The firepot can"t crack. The combustion chamber is extra large. The special hot blast saves fuel. Doors are ground EXACTLY to give perfect air-tight fit. Free catalog tells all about these and other Quaker improvements Send for it today.

Quaker Steel Pipeless Furnaces are easily installed in old or new homes. Only one register required. Made with 18, 22, 26, and 28 inch firepots. Delivered quickly from nearest wearhouse. Send for free catalog.
